FARM HOMES NEEDED.

A N idea of what is wrong with the country A is seen in the figures recently released by the Bureau of the Census, revealing that nearly half of the homes owned by farmers in the United States are worth less than $1000. The average value of only $500.

When one considers tenant farmers the census figures reveal that two-thirds of the homes are worth less than $1,000, with an average value of only $500.

Back of these figures is an appalling story of poverty that is inexcusable. That the farmers of this country are satisfied with their homes, or that their families do not desire better homes is absurd. Nothing but real hardship and lack of money explains the facts.

Given ample buying power, which seems to be on its way, the farmers of the nation wil build better homes. They will use materials of all kinds in construction and goods of all kinds in furnishings. The market is immense. If it becomes active the nation will have another boom on the horizon.

SURVIVED DEPRESSION.

OUR various fraternal organizations have elected and are now installing their respective officers to serve for the present year. It is notable in these times of stress that not one organization of this city or county has fallen by the wayside, but is determined to carry on. Many civic and fraternal organizations causes of depression. Members have become delinquent; many resigning. In Bay St. Louis however, the loss of membership has been small, we are told and the good work for which these organizations were originally affected contin-

Let's continue to improve conditions in and around Bay St. Louis during the year 1934.

HONOR THE PRESIDENT.

TIVE thousand American cities and towns are expected to stage birthday balls on January 30th, the birthday of President Roosevelt. The proceeds of these affairs will be given the President as birthday gift to establish an endowment for the Warm Springs Foundation for the treatment of infantile paralysis sufferers.

A national committee has been formed to put over the proposal and it is confidently expected that the result will be a large fund for the treatment of those who are attacked by this disease. The interest of President Roosevelt in the Warm Springs institution grows out of his own experience. Stricken down by the dread affliction our President successfully fought it to regain his health, although many of those attacked are unable to bring to the fight the same determination and unflinching courage that Mr. Roosevelt possesses.

The Sea Coast Echo hopes that the citizens of Hancock County will be able to take part in the Birthday Ball for the President. If it is not feasible to organize and stage a ball, then it is possible for citizens here to make small contributions to the fund. We suggest, in the event no ball is offered, or if one does not attend balls, that contributions of one dollar be sent in by Echo subscribers in order to show their appreciation of the President's efforts and to help him in aiding sufferers of infantile and disappointment all tend to preparalysis.

This suggestion does not emanate, nor has timism and charity of well-fed, sucit been suggested, by those who sponsor the birthday balls. It is our own idea, which will give all citizens an opportunity to participate in a worthy charitable undertaking and at the same time pay a national tribute to the Chief Executive whose deepest concern seems to be the welfare of the average citizens.

THIS story isn't ours, but nevertheless it is a good one:

There seemed to be no way to get him out, as he was quite useless, and the well abandoned and dangerous, elsewhere have suffered intensely through the farmer ordered his men to fill up the well and leave the horse buried in it.

FORGOTTEN MEN.

TN NORFOLK, Va., a few weeks ago, an elderly white man related a room one evening. next morning he was found with a two-burner gas plate on a chair near his bed and the turned on. A note was also found which read as follows:

"Please excuse me for what done and said around here, for I was not in my right mind. I am doing what President Roosevelt wants allex-service men to do. I done honorable service in the army, but now he says: 'Starve, damn you, starve. You are too old for a soldier.' Good by; I'm done."

Of curse the old man was, as he admitted, not quite in his right mind. Weakness, hunger, discouragement judice the calm, clear judgment, opcessful people. The president does not want ex-service men to commit suicide, and he never swore at them. He is too kindly not to be pained when he has to condemn old disabled people to starvation. When forced

The insistance of the World War veterans on the cash payment of a bonus irritated a large number of people, and the Economy Act was a Placing a Marker reaction. The Spanish War veteran who had never asked, or received, any bonus or special favors of any kind, was forgotten in the rush. He doesn't amount to much. A few of him have become important and respected citizens, but mostly he is merely a man aged in the late fifties without any property to be saved any important interest. Thirty-six years ago he was a young, valuable husky who answered the national call for vounteers, won a little war in quick time and some discomfort; but that is all past history of which we do not choose to be reminded. The president merely takes the position that the national soldier, when he is old or disabled, should become a charge on local charity The honor of the nation requires it. We cannot afford to waste perfectly good money on perfectly useless old men, for the taxpayers have not got the money. We have to pay the farmers a billion dollars or so, pay the bondholders, hire young men to a lot of public buildings, develop the it out of production, all of which is very expensive.

throes of economy. We were piling up a deficit at an alarming rate, we had to save money, and the obvious ly urged by a group of extremely wealthy gentlemen, who naturally were opposed to paying any more taxes on their incomes. They formed what they called a league, hired some publicity sharks, invited attention to certain abuses of the system, induced the very distinguished Admiral Byrd, member of a family at least wel-to-do, who draws some $5,-000.00 a year for physical disability, the only man who has visited both

Currency Morgan & Co., and who draws $21,-500.00 a year from a grateful counof America, who draws $5,000 a year. These gentlemen retain their incomes from the government; but Henry L. Stinson, the victim of illuminating gas, and some scores of thousads of other poor and unimportant men cortribute their small individual amounts to save the honor

One somewhat extravagant and dangerous exception was made to the economy program. When a veteron is sixty-two years old he is allowed a small pension anyway.probably fifteen dollars a month. General officers of the army can retire at this age with retirement pay about five years, unless the law is changed during this period.

They offset this more or less, on hospital bills. All the disabled men statement of the financial condition A. E. Shaw, Arthur Shaw, W. E. Board and T. E. Kellar, Sheriff who had been getting hospital care of Merchants Bank & Trust Company Shaw, Joseph Shaw, Jr., Purcell said county.

WITH THE MOVIES

AND FILM FOLKS

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

MONG THE achievements wrought during 1933 among the producers was an apparent change of sentiment as to what theatre-goers really like to see. This change is shown through the production of more worthwhile subjects. They have found that restraint in production is a quality which brings shekels into their coffers and this discovery is apt to have a telling effect on the product released during 1934.

Investigations into the industry brought through the discussions incident to the signing of various NRA codes, statements from President Roosevelt concerning the quality of the Hollywood product and definite action on the clean picture question by the Catholic Bishops have all had their effect in Hollywood and it is to be hoped that these will not be forgotten soon.

As to types of stories to be used, the head of one large studio says his pictures will be "human and amusing." He belives the day of and to cry, but even this must be genuine, wholesome humor, and natural and elemental pathos.

The cinema-goingpublic is to see a number of costume plays during Among these are included "Queen Christiana," "Madame DuBarry," "Catherine of Russia," "Pride and Prejudice," "Napoleon,""Rothchild," and others.
